Even Nazis Pay Tribute to Courage of Canadian Soldiers....

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(CP)—The Germans paid high tribute to Canada's fighting men when a speaker on the Nazi-controlled Paris radio Sunday said of the Dieppe raid, "the Canadians are endowed with magnificent courage," a Reuters dispatch received here today reported.

Said the announcer, "the first thing that emerges from the Dieppe fighting is the stubbornness of the Canadian soldier... one has the impression these men clung to the soil and fought to the last cartridge."

One inhabitant of Dieppe was quoted as saying he was awakened by "great air activity... we heard terrific bombardments and bombs were bursting everywhere."

Later, said this resident, he saw Canadian and British soldiers "running about with tommy-guns and then we realized what was happening."

'Gate-Crashes' Dieppe Raid—Killed at Home

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 24.—(CP)—The story of a Canadian army corporal who "gate-crashed" the Dieppe raid and returned unhurt, only to die as the result of a road accident the following day was told today at an inquest in a south coast town.

99 Reported Missing in 6th Casualty List

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—(CP)—The number of Canadian soldiers reported missing as a result of the battle of Dieppe last Wednesday rose by 90 today with the issue of the sixth army casualty list since the battle.

The list contained 102 names. The other three were reported respectively wounded, suffering from shock and suffering from fatigue.

Casualty lists on the Dieppe raid, issued today and over the week-end, will be found on page 8.

Only one officer was on the list, Lieut. William Clement Dick of Toronto.

Today's list brings the unofficial count of casualties reported from the battle to 529 of whom 79 are killed, 316 wounded and 125 missing.

DESERT ARMIES ARE REINFORCED

New Drive by Rommel Likely in Near Future

New Philosophy Is Required in Reconstruction

The essence of a reconstruction program is the discovery and reinforcement of a new philosophy which will enable Canadians to develop solutions more appropriate to human well-being. Dr. F. Cyril James, B.Sc., M.A., Ph.D., F.R.S.E., M.M.A.E., principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Dominion Government Committee on Rehabilitation, told 300 Edmontonians at a luncheon meeting tendered in his honor at the MacDonald hotel Monday.

Dr. James spoke on "Canada's Rehabilitation Problems," pointing out that after the war it would be a case of rebuilding the present restrictions nor of throwing them all overboard. A compromise will be effected.

The meeting was sponsored by the chamber of commerce, presided over by members of the Edmonton Kiwanis Club and the Edmonton branch of the Nova Scotia Canadian Club also in attendance.

Dr. James, president of the chamber of commerce, presided and introduced Dr. James.

Police Seeking Husband Result Woman's Death

The husband is being sought by the R.C.M.P. in connection with the alleged slaying of Mrs. M. Manning, mother of a child, in Winfield, Alta., who was found, allegedly, beaten to death, with a blunt instrument in her bed Sunday.

The woman was found in her bed Sunday in her night attire by a neighbor, Mrs. L. Gillespie at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Her 14-year-old son, a baby lying in a crib near the bed, was found unharmed.

R.C.M.P. of the Wetaskiwin detachment assisted by Cpl. Walker of Edmonton, are searching for Fred Manning, 31, husband of the dead woman who disappeared at the weekend.

Manning is five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, is slim and of dark complexion. He has dark brown hair and sharp features.

When last seen in a Winfield cafe Saturday night Manning wore a dark pair of trousers and a red sweater. He is a trucker and his lumber truck was found on the side of the road about four miles east of Winfield.

LEFT SUNDAY
Manning was believed to have been driven out of Winfield at about 4:30 a.m. Sunday.

Manning was to have appeared with his army call Monday.

"In my opinion the anomaly can only be rectified by the attorney-general of Canada and his department having the conduct of all such cases, so that by the submission of counsel on his behalf and by appeals some substantial degree of uniformity throughout Canada may be attained in the enforcement of regulations 29 and 30A," Mr. Connel wrote. "For the reasons above stated it is not my intention to direct that any further consent to prosecutions under regulations 29 and 30A of the Defence of Canada regulations be given."

The attorney-general referred to the two most recent prominent cases under the regulations—against

Thousands Seeking to Join Army

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 24.—(BUP)—Military police occupied all German and Italian banking houses today as part of a nation-wide measure to paralyze business and financial enterprises of the two European Axis partners in Brazil.

On the third day of Brazil's entry into the war against Germany and Italy, long lines of volunteers numbering many thousands lined up outside recruiting centers throughout the country, and the ministry of war was mobbed by patriotic citizens eager to enlist.

Concentration camps swelled with Fifth Columnists, spies, enemy agents and Axis sympathizers, as a nation-wide drive for internal security progressed. Hundreds of Germans and Italians, finally learning that it is to be refused, poured across the border into Uruguay, where they were reported to have been arrested.

But if they expected to find sanctuary there, they were soon to be disappointed, for all would be arrested and turned over to Brazilian authorities. Some already were reported to have been arrested.

As the Russians are pressed back in the Don-Volga area and the north Caucasus, the British command is making evident preparations for possible action over a wide area of the Middle East this winter.

The Russian position undoubtedly grave. The Germans have pushed their way in force across the bend of the Don to within 60 miles of Stalingrad, and have made it impossible for the Russians to use the railroad between Stalingrad and Moscow.

If the Germans reach the Volga, it means not only the fall of the city, but the severance of the great waterway, which is such an important link in Russia's line of communication.

Ontario Not to Enforce Parts Of Defence Act

Lt.-Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader and member of the Independent Liberal movement for Lethbridge in the Quebec election, the crown dropped its case against Col. Drew. Mr. Chalmers was acquitted.

A memorandum over Mr. Chalmers' signature was sent all provincial law enforcement officers over the week-end, notifying them not to institute proceedings for offences against the regulations. The memorandum instructed officers to forward any information concerning future occurrences to the attorney general of Ontario, for such action as he may see fit. "Arrests should not be made by provincial law enforcement officers on account of offences against said regulations," the memorandum stated. "If an arrest is considered advisable the nearest member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police should be informed."

LACK OF UNIFORMITY

Mr. dissent in his correspondence with Mr. St. Laurent, in his dissatisfaction with the lack of uniformity in dispensing justice in connection with the regulations. He discussed the lack of uniformity in the application of the regulations. He discussed the lack of uniformity in the application of the regulations. He discussed the lack of uniformity in the application of the regulations.

Mr. Conant's communication said that "all citizens of Canada who have, presumably, direct counsel to consent to prosecution in two important cases, but published cases recently, i.e. Rex vs. Drew, and Rex vs. Chalmers. I presume that other prosecutions have been similarly instituted with your consent. Although the Drew case arose in this province I do not differ counsel and consent and this department took no part in the prosecution."

In reading the text of the judgment of the court in the Rex vs. Chalmers case, I cannot avoid the impression that the application and application of Regulation 18A in that case was materially from what has been and from what I am of the opinion would be the attitude of the courts in province under similar facts and circumstances.

In the Chalmers case the court acquitted the accused apparently on the grounds of "good faith," but did not have space to explain that and the statements of the accused in that case were within the limits of simple error of judgment. In the case of Rex vs. Stewart (the Daily Clarion case) the Ontario court of appeal in a judgment delivered by Chief Justice (R. S.) Robertson, rejected the defence of defence held very similar regulations in question, but, their prohibitions are absolute and that it was not a defence to a prosecution for their breach to say that what was done in ignorance or without knowledge of the harm. The acts prohibited are to be "prevented."

Regulation 20 deals with printing or publishing material which might cause disaffection. Sections 29, 30 and 31 are not uniformly common to Dieppe. The regulations of the armed and applied in all the provinces. In other words, the brand of justice dispensed in that respect there is substantially different. In some of the provinces, justice dispensed in some of the provinces.

"This situation is, in my view, impossible and a distinct denial of the fundamental principles of administration of justice. For the reasons above stated, it is not my intention to direct that any further consents be given, or be given. All applications for such consents will, in future, be referred to the attorney general for his action as you may care to take."

Mr. Conant informed the justice minister that now there are four cases in which Mr. St. Laurent has consented to prosecution in requested. Mr. St. Laurent telegraphed stating that two of the consents were to proceed in the usual way notwithstanding course of action by letter, proposed for the future. Mr. St. Laurent said one of these was a vagrant case and did not concern him. The telegram said that after investigation, further proceedings against other cases seem necessary "we will attend to them."

Funny Business

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—(CP)— Labor must to make every effort to ensure victory and play its part in establishing a just and permanent peace, said the annual report of the International Labor Office presented at the 30th annual convention here today.

Signed by Tom Moore of Ottawa, president and other officers of the organization, the report said that in order to achieve victory in the present struggle, it was necessary for those who toil to sacrifice many of their hard-won rights and privileges, and the executive has continued to fight against exploitation of the workers' rights in the name of patriotism.

About 300 delegates from across Canada, representing 2,000 affiliated local unions, trades and labor council and provincial federations of labor, attended the open session. With 275 resolutions submitted by affiliates to be discussed, the convention was expected to last throughout the week.

The executive said the congress had made clear it was ready to continue to work with the federal government in establishing better relations between employers and employees, and to work for the supply of the needs of war and peace.

LOYALTY TO COUNTRY

"We will faithfully carrying out the duty to the state during this crisis," the report said. "We will remain loyal to our union and to the broad principles upon which they are based, and we will stand firm in the face of any attempt to undermine the faith that ultimately righteousness and reason must emerge triumphant from the conflict."

THE EXECUTIVE TO PRESS

The executive committee of the International Labor Office, which was formed last week in the possession of an Italian at San Remo, said it was a "terrible shock" to the workers when they learned that the Italian government was planning to use the Italian labor union as a tool for the execution of its policy.

LABOR DISREGARDED

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(BUP)—Babe Ruth swung with all his power, his bat met the ball, and it sailed toward the distant right-field stands.

The 47-year-old Bambino never looked to see where the ball went. As soon as he hit the decisive thud of his stick against the baseball, he started to run—net and—end—he ran around the bases there in the Yankee stadium with his homing bat held high behind his back in 1923.

As Ruth ran the bases, the ball that he hit had sailed over the top of the white pole and landed in the fourth tier of the upper right field stands—a foul ball. But the merriment of the crowd and the cheering of the bases for the Babe Ruth who had hit the home run were so loud that he did not hear the ball.

WALTER JOHNSON IS PAINTER JOHNSON, the big train, who at 55 has come out of retirement to pitch to Ruth in this historic exhibition before 60,000 fans at the Senators-Yankees doubleheader, looked anxious as Ruth's "home run" and then leaped in from the mound.

Johnson, who had allowed Ruth only 10 home runs in the 14 seasons they opposed each other, was touched for a home run on his fifth pitch, when the Bambino sent a fly ball sailing into the lower right field stands. Ruth wasn't satisfied with that. He didn't consider that home run well hit, and he wanted to show the young players on the Yanks, and the younger generation of sports fans, what a real home run is like.

It was that he hit it swinging on Johnson's 13th pitch. The all-time home run king and baseball's greatest showman, slugged off his first homer into the lower stands, and didn't even trot around the bases. But when he got the feel of that "home" on his last swing, he knew it was well hit, and started running.

Between these contests, Ruth in his white home uniform with his No. 3 on the back, strode to the plate against tall, lean Johnson, probably the fastest pitcher in the American League. Bald, Bumpy, formerly of the Yanks but now a Washington coach, was catfishing, and Billy Evans, former American League umpire, was officiating.

"Johnson can pitch, although he's 55 years old," Ruth enthused. "The old hound threw me a curve once, and I almost broke my teeth in two swiping at it. He was referring to the 'Big Train's' 18th pitch on which he induced a foul fly.

Ruth's lowering foul "home" gave him such a kick that he said, "I don't want to see him pitch again, but I can't at 47 and weighing 275 and not being able to run in the outfield or on the base paths. But I like the younger generation—the kids who never saw me or Johnson do our stuff, can get a rough idea of how this game of baseball used to be played."

Although Byron Nelson looked all right in right field for Dodgers in exhibition with St. Louis Browns on Toledo's "golf night," Manager Fred Haney thought is best that the famous golfer be fully protected by catching equipment.

"That's funny! My dog's barking at me!"

Babe Ruth Parks Pair of 'Homers' in Right Field Stand

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Babe Ruth, who "built" the Yankee Stadium, came back Sunday to fill it with fans—and gold—for soldiers and sailors.

Naturally, the big guy, hitting two "homers" off Walter Johnson, led the way in the gold drive. He had a lot of help bringing in 10,000 came in at Philadelphia to contribute an estimated $50,000 to army and navy relief.

Brooklyn, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers took a long stride in their drive toward their second consecutive National League pennant Sunday by capturing a doubleheader at Philadelphia.

Smoke Screens Hide Invasion Force as it Reaches Dieppe Coast

The troops landed at several selected points and drove into and beyond the town to reach their objectives before retiring.

This picture was taken as the invading force which smashed Dieppe arrived off the French coast. Almost hidden by smoke screens laid down by destroyers for their protection, invasion barges, loaded to capacity with Canadian and British troops move in to shore.

Self-Pity Habit Is Very Demoralizing

Chief Offenders Are Middle-Aged Women Who Often Blame Husband For Tears; Nobody Has to Live in a Slough of Despond

If there is one reform that is needed more than any other it is to cure women of being sorry for themselves. The self-pitying habit is every whit as demoralizing as the dope habit and it is a lot harder on the family and friends of the addict. The morose take and drunkard have their moments of sobriety or they can be clipped into a sanatorium where only those who are paid for it have to listen to their moans, whereas there is no escape from the weeper. She is always on the spot, salting down with tears everybody with whom she comes in contact.

Chief among these weepers are middle-aged women. There is not a mail that doesn't bring a score of brine-soaked letters from melancholy ladies.

Bulletin Patterns

Matron's Shiftrock

They are absorbed in their own lives and children. They won't listen to her advice. They don't want her to live with them. When they go out at an evening they don't want to tag along. And so on and so on. Only a mother knows how children repay her with black ingratitude.

It is too bad to spoil anybody's fun, and as these women get such a kick out of being miserable it seems almost cruel to interfere with their favorite indulgence. But as I read these heart-melting epistles I always feel like saying, "Well, if you don't like being unhappy, why don't you do something about it? Nobody has to live in a slough of despond unless he or she is too lazy or too stupid to climb out of it. Anyway, you know that the only way you could escape the conditions of middle age was by dying young. So why don't you prepare yourself to meet them?"

When all is said, what are you weeping over? Surely you have no cause to weep because you are fat, bald, middle-aged husband doesn't make romantic love to you. By the time you have been married to a man for twenty-five or thirty years you should know so securely that you that you couldn't lose him if you tried or you lost him so long ago you have forgotten what he looked like and wouldn't take him back at a gift. Anyway, when a man takes a wife for granted, he pays her his prime compliment. He thinks she is so all right he doesn't have to mention it. You knew your children were bound by nature to grow up and leave you, so why didn't you prepare yourself with some outside work to do when you wouldn't have to put in your time winging little ones? Why didn't you acquire some skill by which you could support yourself if need be? Why didn't you go in for clubs or philanthropy? Why didn't you learn to be a crackbracket bridge player? That has saved many a woman from a dreary old age.

If you are lonely, that is your own fault. You didn't make new contacts. You didn't give your friendship fences to repair. You let yourself become a bore who was always whining, instead of a cheerful, pleasant companion. And what grievance have you got against your children because they want to live their own lives? Why don't you fill your own life so full of interests that they will not have to depend upon them in keeping you entertained and amused? Why don't you face the fact that if you want them to enjoy your society you must laugh with them, instead of expecting them to weep with you?

Of course, the creepheavers are not going to listen to these admonitions. They are having too good a time pitying themselves, and that you are.

Slip Cover Renews Old-Looking Chair

Pinned and set right on chair. Yes, chairs get their faces lifted. Too! The beauty treatment? A brand-new upholstery. Give it a cover you can make yourself—fitting the fabric tight in the chair and slipping off what you don't need.

A sturdy cotton towel, in an attractive geometric pattern as in our picture, gives a firm upholstery effect.

To start, remove the chair cushions and pin fabric to top of chair. Stretch and pin it down inside back and seat, allowing 4 inches for tuck-in between, and trim around pins to 1½ inches for seams.

Place cover the rest of the chair.

Make the Most of Cheese As Victory Food Special

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Cheddar cheese is now a Victory Food Special. Use it to the maximum in some of your meals.

TOMATO RABBIT

(Serves 4 to 6)

Two tablespoons butter or other fat, 1 small onion, chopped fine.

water until tender. Rinse in cold water. Make a sauce by melting fat in saucepan, then stirring in flour. When well blended, slowly stir in the milk. Add salt and nutmeg. Add shredded cheese and stir until melted. Arrange the macaroni and sauce in alternate layers in greased baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese.

Preserving tomatoes is a good Victory Garden habit. But, if you are anxious to serve some new, try them with cheese, a "victory food special," in a rabbit.

breadcrumbs over top and bake about 30 minutes.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Toast, cracked wheat cereal, nut bread toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Creamed eggs and green peas, wholewheat muffins, prunes, tea.

DINNER: Tomato juice, macaroni and cheese, crisp bacon, broccoli, apple pie, coffee, milk.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

(Serves 4 to 6)

Two cups macaroni, broken into small pieces, 2 quarts boiling salted water, 2 tablespoons flour, 4 tablespoons well-flavored fat, such as strained bacon drippings, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, pinch nutmeg, 1 lb. cheese shaved thin, breadcrumbs.

Cook macaroni in rapidly boiling water.

MIXED GRILL

Here's an idea in dressing up the homely hamburger: Form meat into fairly thin patties and arrange on a preheated grill with ripe halved tomatoes. Season. Broil until lightly browned. Turn and add the grill peeled bananas which have been brushed with melted butter and slightly salted. Continue broiling until meat is cooked and bananas are tender. Bananas for broiling should not be over-ripe.

In the just same way—a section at a time arms, front, sides, back and cushion.

The next step is to pin pieces together, take out pins that hold fabric to chair, and remove the pinned pieces to be steamed. A "tug" and you run it off on the machine!

Our Storage booklet describes in detail, with diagrams, each step of making a slip cover the piston chair for chairs or sofa. Tell how to finish, make pleats and trim; how to fit the seat, make, unusual shaped chairs. Suggests colors, fabrics to harmonize with your room.

Send 15 cents in coins for your copy of "How to Make Slip Covers." To The Edmonton Bulletin, Home Service, 60 Front St., Toronto, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELROD

It cannot be said too often, that the amount of food a child consumes in any one day, is strictly his own concern. Some children can enjoy a half cupful of cereal when to others this amount would be both nauseating and appetite-destraining.

So many mothers, especially between the child's first and second year, complain that he eats like a bird. This is a natural state of affairs. It is quite obvious that the year-old may consume no more than a 2-year-old. The one or two year-old will be eating no more, perhaps less, than his 1½-year-old sister. The rate of gain decreases with the years. The first year the baby adds 10 pounds to his weight, the second year, but 5, the third year only 4 and the fourth year 3 pounds. The one or two year-olds of food the child receives may be all he needs.

There is no ideal portion of food; there are only amounts which the child can eat without urging. Then, at each succeeding meal, he will come to the table with a desire for what is provided, not a revulsion against it.

Mothers should be beware of the tendency to force foods on children in the interest of cleanliness or drinking last drops. It may be those distasteful, unswarted fat squabbles which prevent the child from ever relishing what he eats.

Neither food nor milk needs to be served in any specific quantity. The dictum that each child must drink one quart of milk has been modified to read, "from one pint to one quart." It has been obvious that more milk than the child drinks willingly may easily destroy his appetite for the other essential foods.

The best criterion of whether the amount of a child's eat is satisfactory and wholesome to him, is not the quantity of food, but his own good appetite, his interest in food, his steady progression in weight. These tell a far more accurate story than just an enumeration of how much food a mother is able to force upon him. In many cases it is the mother's eyes which are bigger than the child's stomach.

Our leaflet, "Four Appetites," enumerates the many reasons why children may lose their appetites. It may be had by sending a 5-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Elrod in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: Eggs are good baby food—if they agree with baby.

McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. MCKENNEY

This week I am going to talk about a game that will put the other side in without damage to the leader's side. One of the chief tasks in bridge is to take position when the lead is called for, and when it is necessary to take position when the lead is called for.

As in many cases, simple arithmetic should show South his trump trump, no more until he himself has opened hearts to give dummy a remote ruff. Declarer can also win three clubs.

That leaves him two short for the contract, and he can make his bid only by winning the first two rounds of hearts. The indicated defense is for South to keep the trump with the ace of clubs, exit with the three-spade and let the declarer open the heart suit.

When a Girl Marries

By RENE RYERSON MART

THE STORY: End, Sharon, stenographer, decided to take a short vacation before settling down with Tom. But when she found out that she was going to marry, she decided to take a short vacation before settling down with Tom. But when she found out that she was going to marry, she decided to take a short vacation before settling down with Tom.

CHAPTER V

THE first thought that surged into End's waking mind that morning was THE APARTMENT. She had rented it. There was no chance to change her mind now. For once, she had actually dared to do something she wanted to.

For a whole month now she could live a glamorous life. But there were a lot of details to be attended to before she could enter into the enjoyment of her secret paradise. She made excited plans as she dressed. First of all, she would try to get her vacation started immediately. For what reason? The apartment at what, to her, was an exorbitant rental, she wanted every possible minute in which to enjoy it.

She didn't really think that there would be any difficulty about getting her vacation on such short notice. August was a slack time at the plant, and with John Stanton, the big boss, away, there would be less than usual.

She intended to tell no one, either at the office or at home, what she was going to do with her vacation. Her plans were innocent enough, but no one would understand. They would think it ridiculous. If not downright insane, to spend her savings and vacation money on a vacation in a furnished apartment, enjoying rather lurid.

Hold Everything

"I'm just being patriotic. I'm leaving the regular railroads for war traffic."

Last-A-Day

"Splendid combination of atoms, isn't she?"

Curious World —By William Ferguson
